Ice Ninjas and Bets

Danny: This is what happens when I have too much free time and decide to read my PM's and when Kris refuses to edit/review a one shotâ€¦.. Thank you _TheBlackWidow17_ for the prompt: _Less than 1000 words (not counting the AN) and ZaneXDanny. _So, yeah. Um, remember the Temple Of Light? Yeah, imagine something really similar to that only at night. **

Danny shot the nindroid a hopeful glance, "so, are we now offi-" his words were cut off by Zane grabbing his wrist and pulling him into a soft and sweet kiss.

"HA! TOLD YA!" Jay shouted, alerting both ice users of the other ninja's presences, causing both to pull away and look at the stone ground in embarrassment. Bright red (in Danny's case bright ecto green) blushes instantly lit up the two ninja's faces as Jay looked over at Lloyd expectantly, "pay up Garmadon Jr."

Lloyd glared as he forked over a couple bills, causing said ninja to smirk smugly, "thank you kind sir."

"Well now that the lovebirds are _finally_ together, can we _PLEASE_-" Kai stressed the word, "go home!? I'm freezing!"

Danny and Zane gave the four astounded looks, but nodded. "Yeah, that's probably a good idea."

The group of six swiftly left The High Moon Temple (my version of the Temple of Light only well darker), unaware of small bright red beady eyes watching their every move. As soon as the ninja took off on their dragons, a dark shadowy figure emerged from the shadows, "so, the Phantom and the nindroid are now together. Purrfect." It's ominous and dark echo was cut off by the figure hissing, "this will work out nicely."

Well, probably not my best work, it could be a lot better...we (I) don't own Ninjago or Danny Phantom. I personally think I did some what ok with the romance area (definitely not my specialty!) Umm rate and review? I know it wasn't long but I don't know how to expand, sry. See ya guys soon! :)
